USAID Highlights the Role of Innovation and Technology

Released on September 5, 2014

The U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) is pleased to announce the launch of the Innovations in Development Technology Expo, Monday, September 8, 1:15 p.m., at the Development Innovations Lab, #296, St. 271, Tuol Tumpoung, Phnom Penh. Ms. Denise Rollins, USAID Acting Administrator for Asia, and Dr. Hor Peng, the Rector of the National University of Management will be speaking on the role of technology and innovation in advancing Cambodia's development. Members of the media are invited to attend and should be in place by 1:00pm.

The Innovations in Development Technology Expo will be held at the USAID-sponsored Development Innovation Lab on September 8, 2014 from 1:30 PM to 8:30 PM. The expo will present the latest practical technologies and solutions utilized by civil society and the private sector to address development challenges, and is open to the public. The Innovations in Development Technology Expo will showcase more than 20 projects and innovations using technology and Information and Communication Technology (ICT), which are addressing development challenges in a variety of sectors including education, forestry, corruption, open data, entertainment, transparency and health.
