

GIS Workshop: Fundamentals of QGIS

Introduction

Open Development Cambodia (ODC) is an 'open data' website, the first of its kind in Southeast Asia. The open data movement is based on the simple premise that data collected for public interest should be publicly available without restrictions. Information or data in the public domain should be freely available to everyone to use and republish as they wish. Open Development Cambodia does not promote any particular perspective, agenda or bias other than to provide objective information about Cambodia and its development.

ODC is delighted to announce a Geographic Information System (GIS) Workshop: Fundamentals of QGIS of the three series workshops each of which takes three days. This series workshop aims to provide a comprehensive knowledge on geographic information system and using open-source GIS platform (QGIS) for data collection, data management and mapping. The environmental and natural resource are used as the theme during the workshop.

Workshop:

The three-day workshop is structured in module having different levels of difficulty that comes in help of the student who will learn the general concepts of a Geographical Informational System and practices in the real world. The modules are:

- Module 1: Getting started with QGIS
- Module 2: Visualization of spatial data
- Module 3: Data management
- Module 4: Data collection with GPS
- Module 5: Performing georeference
