

The EU Delegation and its Resident Member States note the outcome of Kem Sokha's appeal trial with concern.

Political pluralism is essential for enabling an open political and civic space in Cambodia, respectful of its democratic commitments.

The EU and its Resident Member States have consistently supported the rule of law in Cambodia and hope for a constructive way forward, including by positive measures for those currently in detention.

H.E. Igor Driesmans, Ambassador of the European Union to Cambodia

H.E. Stefan Messerer, Ambassador of Germany to Cambodia

H.E. Olivier Richard, Ambassador of France to Cambodia

H.E. Markéta Kolc Hájková, Ambassador of the Czech Republic to Cambodia

