“Funan Techo Integrated Water Resources Management Project” between China Exim Bank and Funan Techo Coastal-Inland Waterways Company

The Council for the Development of Cambodia (CDC) has the honor to inform the public and all media outlets that: On September 9, 2026, Funan Techo Coastal-Inland Waterways Company and the Export-Import Bank of China (China Exim Bank) signed a facility agreement worth nearly US$1 billion for the “Funan Techo Integrated Water Resources Management Project”.

Implemented by a private investment company under the Build-Operate-Transfer (BOT) model, this landmark project is a true game changer for Cambodia. It will connect the inland waterway network to the sea, reduce logistics costs, and enhance competitiveness in the logistics sector. It will also create a new “economic corridor” and serve as a vibrant economic artery, supporting the development of industrial zones, logistics hubs, agricultural processing, satellite cities, and tourism along the waterway in the decades ahead.

The signing ceremony was witnessed by H.E. Mr. SUN CHANTHOL, Deputy Prime Minister and First Vice Chairman of the CDC, during the International Investment Cooperation Forum under the theme: “Global Wisdom, Mutual Empowerment: International Investment & Cooperation Exchange” in Xiamen, Fujian, China.
